JOHN G. WINANT SUICIDE; SHOTS SELF IN TEMPLE

Former Ambassador, New Hampshire Governor Was in Mental Slump

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 3 (AP)—John G. Winant, former ambassador to the court of St. James, committed suicide tonight by shooting himself in the head. Dr. Clarence E. Butterfield, medical referee, reported tonight Winant was 38.

He was alone in his home with his private secretary and maid when he shot himself in the right temple with a .32 calibre Belgian automatic pistol, the doctor said.

His private secretary, Miss Irene Mason, a native of England, said neither she nor the maid, Miss Orol Maers, heard the shot but were aroused by the thump of his body in an upstairs bedroom.

They ran to the upper room and found the former ambassador slumped to the floor.

They said they called Winant's personal adviser, J. Bernard Condon, Concord, who, in turn, notified police.

Dr. Butterfield and County Solicitor Raymond Perkins were called to the Winant home by police.

Perkins said the maid told them that Winant "seemed in low spirits" during the day.

Perkins also quoted the secretary as saying Winant appeared to be suffering "a mental and physical fatigue."

Winant had just completed his work.

Solicitor Perkins said "There was no foul play."

Winant's wife and mother were in New York at the time and were notified by Teulon.

Also notified were his two sons, John G. Winant Jr., a Princeton student, and Livingston Winant, a student at Oxford, England.

Winant was dressed in a lounge robe and had just gone to the bedroom when the other two occupants of the house heard the crash of the body.

Winant was appointed ambassador to the court of St. James in 1941 and served through the war years, and, at the war's end, he was the United States representative on the European supervisory council.

While ambassador he was present when the United Nations economic

Mikolajczyk Reaches London In Escape From Polish Reds

LONDON, Nov. 3 (P)—Stanislaw Mikolajczyk reached London today after a dramatic flight from Poland that included a dash through Soviet-occupied Germany. He said he fled because the present Communist-led Polish government planned to kill him and two of his associates.

"I did not want to be shot and killed like a sheep," he said.

Britain had promised sanctuary for the anti-Communist leader, and the house of commons rocked with cheers when Foreign Undersecretary Christopher Mayhew made the brief announcement: "I have been informed that Mr. Mikolajczyk arrived in this country and was given leave to land."

The leader of the opposition National Peasant party arrived in a Royal Air Force plane from British-occupied Germany. He strode into a cottage outside London, kissed the hand of the wife he left behind him here more than two years ago, and recounted to more than 50 newsmen and photographers the story of his flight.

The bald broad-shouldered Polish leader who left his country Oct. 20 said he received news the day the present Polish parliament opened that immunity would be taken away from him. Stefan Korbowski and Kasimir Bajinski. All were Peasant party members of parliament.

"I knew also they made plans to advance with a military coup sentence us to death," he added. Korbowski and Bajinski were members of the party that fled with Mikolajczyk.

"After I got the news they were going to arrest us I made a decision to go away, because, after all, they would sentence us to death and our people would try to avenge us and cause unnecessary bloodshed," Mikolajczyk said.

The 46-year-old former leader of the Polish government in exile was obviously tired from the ordeal of the past 13 days. To one question of whether he planned to continue political activity he replied: "I want to go to sleep."

He said he had no immediate plans for the future and declined to state whether he hoped to form an anti-Soviet bloc outside Poland, or whether he would go to the United States.

The British government had pledged in the house of commons a few days after he fled Poland that he would be given refuge in England.

Mikolajczyk flew from the British zone of Germany to Manston, RAF airport in Kent.

Asked if his Warsaw companions who fled with him were safe, he replied "So far as I know they are safe." Those who escaped with him were his secretary, Marie Hildewig, Wincenty Bryja, treasurer of the Polish Peasant party, Korbowski, Bajinski and his wives.

He said he left Warsaw by train on Oct. 20, crossed the country's heavily-guarded western frontier and the Soviet zone of Germany, and then proceeded to the British zone. He declined to disclose the point where he found safety there, but said "I first felt safe last Saturday," the day of his arrival in the British zone.

Mikolajczyk's flight into exile was not a new experience for him. In 1940 he escaped from Poland—then under attack by the Germans—through Yugoslavia.

Hungary Expels U. S. Writer As Link in Espionage Plan

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Communist-dominated Hungarian government today ordered the expulsion from Hungary of Jack Guinn, 31, Associated Press correspondent in that country for the past 22 months.

The action against Guinn was taken a week after the arrest of his American secretary, Miss Elizabeth K. Pallos, and three days after Yugoslavia's expulsion of Arthur M. Brandel, Belgrade correspondent for the New York Times.

The Hungarian ministry of the interior said in a statement that police had discovered "an organization for espionage" and in connection with this had detained Miss Pallos and seven other persons.

"In connection with the discovery of the organization," the statement concluded, "ministry of the interior authorities expelled Mr. Jack Guinn, Associated Press correspondent, from Hungary forever."

Guinn earlier had been notified he must leave Hungary within 24 hours or face charges of "espionage and the smuggling of criminals" out of the country. He plans to leave for Vienna tomorrow by United States legation car, with his wife and children to follow by legation plane.

Brandel was ousted from Yugoslavia for what the Yugoslavs called "offensive" writing. He and his wife, Mary Lester, United Press correspondent, left Belgrade by train today.

In listing the names of those detained in Hungary, the ministry's communique connected most of them with the opposition parties of Deszo Suloyk, who fled Hungary in August "in fear of his life," as he announced on reaching Vienna, and of Zoltan Pfeiffer, whose arrest the government has threatened. Suloyk headed the Freedom party, Pfeiffer's group is called the Hungarian Independence party.

Until today's statement, no charges against Miss Pallos, who is 31, had been published. She was born in Pittsburgh of Hungarian parentage and before joining the AP was secretary to the headquarters commandant of the U. S. military mission in Budapest.

The U. S. legation, contending that Miss Pallos was an American national, took up her case with the Budapest government. Hungarian nationality.

Guinn decided to bow to the expulsion order after conferring with U. S. Minister Selden Chapin, who said the past week he had talked with Erik Molnar, Communist foreign minister of Hungary, on the case of Miss Pallos.

The past Friday he had heard from Hungarian said he had heard from "member of the political police" that her arrest was "connected with the Pfeiffer party affairs."

The same day, the Hungarian people's attorney asked parliament to waive the immunity and provide for the provisional arrest of Zoltan Pfeiffer, member of parliament and leader of the anti-Communist Hungarian Independence party.

Republicans have seized on the Tait-Hartley labor law as an issue in Kentucky and Indiana, but the Democrats have not discussed it.

Greatest interest from a national standpoint is concentrated on Kentucky. There, Democratic Rep. Earle C. Clements is contesting Republican State Attorney General Eldon S. Dummer for the governorship now held by Republican Simon Taylor Dumas. The latter is ineligible to hold office last night, and he won in an upset four years ago.

Senator Barkley, Senate democratic leader, has been making a whirlwind campaign in the latter stages for Clements, who voted against the Tait-Hartley act and is (Continued on Page Seven)

Clouds Hide Sunshine, Rain Drenches Town

Yesterday was gloomy Monday, at least so far as the weather was concerned.

After day-long overcast skies and chill winds, sometimes with a hint of precipitation rain started to fall at 5:45 o'clock last night and continued intermittently throughout the evening.

Just about the same conditions are predicted for today — it will be mostly cloudy and mild, with rain in the morning.

Tomorrow again will be cloudy, with little change in temperature.

Rounding Out a Century

Believed to be Pottstown's oldest living resident, Mrs. Lena Reifsnider today will celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary. She is shown preparing to cut her birthday cake at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rhoads, 23 West Second street, where she now is living. Born near Monaca, Mrs. Reifsnider came to Pottstown on June 12, 1869.

'Big Family' Photo Tugs Heartstrings in Peoria

A candy and ice cream treat—$15 worth—is in store for Mrs. James Robinson, of Spring City RD 1, and her family of 11 children.

Back on Sept. 6, a picture of Mrs. Robinson and seven of her children of pre-school age appeared in The Mercury. It had been snapped by Mercury Photographer Eugene Orlando. Some time later it was reproduced in Peoria, Ill., newspaper and attracted the attention of Al Johnson, of that city.

Johnson wrote a letter to Burgess William A. Griffith who received it yesterday, telling of how the candy and ice cream treat idea originated. The letter read:

"I showed the picture to a friend and, while he was counting the children, I said, 'Frank, if there ever was a lady who deserved a nice box of candy, it is her. Shall we send her one?'"

"He said, 'I'll give you a dollar and why not get the rest of the boys in the department?'"

So the candy idea quickly grew to $15.

"Please send me the lady's address, or I will mail the money to you, as it is to be spent on candy and ice cream only."

So it was quite apparent last night that there'll be a big candy and ice cream party down at the Robinson home one day soon.

U. N. Condemns War Propaganda; Reds Term Measure 'Half-Way'

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—The United Nations assembly approved unanimously tonight a world condemnation of propaganda that might threaten peace. This final action was taken only after Russia declared it was "half-way" measure that did not name "those countries where war propaganda is particularly widespread."

Just a week ago, in a surprise move in the assembly's 57-member political committee, Russia withdrew charges that the United States, Greece and Turkey were carrying on "criminal war propaganda."

The resolution was approved by acclamation without a vote.

As the assembly prepared to give its final approval, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky jumped up and called for the floor. He then delivered what was probably the shortest speech he has ever made before the United Nations.

He told the assembly the Soviet delegation had voted for the resolution approved by the political committee "despite the fact that the resolution is a half-way measure and an insufficient one since (Continued on Page Seven)

Wounded Hunter Loses In Race With Assailant

An unknown rabbit hunter outran the center of the Pottstown High school football team yesterday afternoon, but only because the footballer was slowed down by shotgun pellets in his left arm.

David Towers, 17, of 127 Chestnut street, was hunting in a woods near Pennsburg when a far-off hunter took aim at a rabbit near Towers. Struck by a few pellets, Towers took off after the bad marksman but gave up the chase because of the pain in his arm.

Towers was treated at Pottstown hospital dispensary after he had removed most of the pellets. His injury was not serious.

Complainants Help Create Filth Of Hubley's Run, Board Charges

"The very people who complain about conditions of Hubley's Run help create it themselves," Ralph L. Swavely, Pottstown health board secretary, said after last night's meeting of the board, which reviewed the problem in detail.

At the conclusion of the meeting, at 12:30 o'clock this morning, the board instructed Swavely to send a recommendation to next month's borough council meeting. This will state the board recognizes the pollution of Hubley's Run, and four other streams, including Tanyard Run, which crosses High street at Penn street, and Goose Run, which empties into the Manawaway between Walnut and Chestnut streets.

The recommendation also asks council to take action to end them.

The charge that property owners along the run have contributed to the filthy conditions of the stream was based on the fact that of 20 complaints received about dumping of wash water and waste water on public streets, 19 of the conditions checked by Health Officer Benjamin Steele involved water emptying into Hubley's Run.

And of these 19 complaints, Swavely said, 11 of them involved dumpings made by residents of South Cherry and Water street in the vicinity of Washington street (Continued on Page Seven)

Only One Bid Received For Garbage Collection

It was reported yesterday afternoon by Borough Manager Dow I. Sears that only one bid had been submitted for collection of garbage under the municipal contract system.

Bids must be submitted by Wednesday evening, Nov. 5. Sears said no date has been set for awarding of a contract. The bids first must be scheduled.

Fire Loss in October Totaled $500 Here

Fire loss in the borough during the month of October totaled $500, according to the report of Fire Chief Richard E. Landauer.

A loss of $400 was caused by a fire at the Guy Crawford home, 43 Hemlock row, Store, while a car blaze on Oak street resulted in $100 damage.

There were 13 phone calls in town and four out of town. There was one false alarm during the month. Fires in buildings totaled eight while 11 were outside of buildings.

Losses for the corresponding month in previous years follow: 1942—$800; 1943—$1896; 1944—No loss; 1945—$1018; and 1946—$900.

ILLNESS IS FATAL TO JOHN REBERT

Was Borough Councilman In Seventh Ward 40 Years Ago; Retired Contractor

John C. Rebert, a councilman from the Seventh ward 40 years ago and a retired contractor of Pottstown, died in Bethlehem at 11 o'clock last night, after he had been confined to bed for more than a year.

Mr. Rebert was 79 and the husband of Mrs. Mary (Rhoads) Rebert. He had been ill for more than 10 years, but until 1947, operated a grocery store at 1015 South street with his wife.

In 1942 the couple retired to a small bungalow in Little Oley, but early last month they moved to the home of Mr. Rebert's daughter and only other survivor, Mrs. Sally Feight, of Bethlehem, where he died last night.

He was born in Fegleysville, the son of the late John and Philomena (Christian) Rebert.

He lived in Pottstown for more than 50 years, and until 1915 was a member of the contracting and excavating firm of Kerper and Rebert.

A Republican all his life, Mr. Rebert served as committeeman in the Seventh ward for many years, as well as councilman from the ward for two terms.

He was a member of St. John's Reformed church, and of Pottstown Nest 1393, Order of Owls.

Funeral services have not been arranged, but interment will be made in Edgewood cemetery.

Patton Held Own Vindication in Slapping Incident

(B) That Patton, a man of great military talent, chafed under the notion that his superior failed to appreciate his talent to the fullest and that he in turn held a low opinion of the way SHAEF ran the war in general and his Third Army in particular.

Patton gave his account of the Sicilian incident in four paragraphs of his 425-page book. It was during the attack on the Sicilian town of Troina, he related. He was driving back to the headquarters of General Omar N. Bradley, then Second Corps commander, when he saw a hospital in a valley and stopped to inspect it.

"There were some 350 badly wounded men in the hospital all of whom were very heroic under their sufferings and all of whom were interested in the success of the operation," the general said.

"Just as I was leaving the hos-

Local Voting Today To Settle Struggle For Council Control

Pottstown voters today will decide the political complexion of borough council and the school board when they cast their ballots in the general election. Polling places, one in each of ten wards, will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

The election will climax a huzzaw campaign that generated little interest until a week ago. Even though 9540 persons are eligible to vote here, no records are expected to be set. With cloudy weather and occasional rain forecast, a moderate vote was predicted last night by party leaders.

Interest will center around the election of ten councilmen, one from each ward, and in choosing three school directors from the borough at large.

Borough council now presents a vote deadlock, with ten Democrats and ten Republicans. This resulted in 1945 when the Democrats elected six councilmen to end a GOP regime of ten years. By electing Burgess William A. Griffith that year, the Democrats assured themselves of domination in case of the council votes.

The school board has been Republican-controlled for 15 years, during which time Pottstown's outmoded, dingy school buildings were replaced by modern structures. Today's school board consists of five Republicans and two Democrats. With three directors to be elected, the Democrats can regain control of the board by sweeping the field.

Interest in the election was predicated on the council and school board fights, but voters also will choose row officers in the Montgomery county courthouse. Because the county is predominantly Republican, the election is a foregone conclusion. The only question is the size of the vote, and county leaders are attempting to get out a huge tally to impress national leaders for the 1948 presidential election.

Republicans hold a slight edge in registration. There are 4815 Pottstown Republicans eligible to vote today, compared with 4341 Democratic eligibles. Non-partisans, Socialists and Prohibitionists total 384, bringing the Pottstown registration to 9540.

This is less than a high registration of 10,421 set in 1946.

The Pottstown voting places are: West ward recreation parlor, Walnut and York Sts.

Second ward, YWCA at 315 King street.

Third ward, Premises of Lester R. Daut, 114 S. Hanover street.

Fourth ward, 432 High street.

Fifth ward, Garage of John Madaja, 616 King street.

Sixth ward, East End Quoit Club, South side of Center avenue between Price and Keim streets.

Seventh ward, Store of Patrick Dunn, West Side of Grant street, between Walnut and Beech.

Eighth ward, North End Quoit Club, Spruce and Gay streets.

Ninth ward, public garage of Krause and Ludwig, 126 Third street.

Tenth ward, Old School, 313 North Washington street.

Traffic Slowed as Tree Topples Over Highway

Half of a large maple tree broke in the wind at about 1 o'clock this morning and toppled across South Hanover street about four blocks below the bridge across the Schuylkill river.

The front half of the 40-foot limb extended to the middle of the street, forcing traffic to proceed past it in one lane, under the supervision of Daniel J. Guldin, North Coventry police chief.

Clarence Baker, 316 South Hanover street, reported the block to the Bell Telephone company, several of whose cables were broken by the tree.

Guldin and Baker were awaiting arrival of a repair truck at 2 o'clock this morning.

SOVIET RETARDS PEACE WORK, U. S. CHARGES

State Department Hits Russians for Failure To Abide by Agreements

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—A new official declaration of United States foreign policy heaped blame today on Soviet Russia for failure of the United Nations to "grasp the fruits of peace and victory."

In a document prepared for public distribution, the State department charged Russia with "intransigence" or refusal to compromise, in carrying out wartime agreements.

"A basic aim of the United States," the report declared, "is to press for the necessary treaty settlements which will permit withdrawal of occupation troops from Germany, Austria, Korea and Japan and enable all nations of the world to return as soon as possible to a peacetime basis."

It is an overall survey of this government's aims and stand on major postwar international issues and is entitled "aspects of current American foreign policy."

"The Soviet Union, along with the United States, is party to commitments with reference to the demilitarization, political reconstruction and economic unification of Germany," the report said.

"The USSR has failed to implement many of these commitments, however, and has been mainly concerned with extracting maximum reparations from Germany and insuring that a new German political regime shall be 'friendly' to the Soviet Union."

"The United States has been concerned chiefly with economic rehabilitation which may render Germany self-sustaining without jeopardizing security requirements and with democratic reconstruction on the basis of free political action by the Germans themselves."

"The United States desires that Germany shall occupy a position among the powers which would give her freedom to co-operate in a broad program of European economic reconstruction rather than to be linked economically and politically with any orbit."

California Governor Turned Down Talk Of 'Ghost' Writer

OAKLAND, Nov. 3 (AP)—The California legislative committee investigating un-Americanism heard allegations today that ghost writers with strong leftist leanings were assigned to do speeches for speakers, including Gov. Earl Warren, at a 1945 Hollywood Bowl memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Warren refused to deliver the ghost written speech.

Committee investigator, Richard Combs read a letter which he said was from Dore Schary, movie executive, to Pauline Lauber, secretary of the Hollywood Writers' mobilization, an organization Chairman Jack B. Tenney charged was "100 percent pro-Communist controlled."

The letter, as read to the committee, assigned various writers from the HWM to do the speeches at the memorial program.

Probe of Hollywood Reds Backed by House Speaker

BOSTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin tonight defended the current congressional investigation into Hollywood Communists by characterizing as "propaganda" the attacks aimed at it.

"We've got to protect ourselves against Communists in this country and find out who they are," Martin said in a press conference after a 30-minute visit with Gov. Robert T. Bradford in the Massachusetts State house.

Martin made no comment on the sub-committee's contempt citation against ten Hollywood witnesses, all of them either writers or directors, who refused to answer the question as to whether they were Communists.

If the full committee concurs it will ask Martin to certify the contempt charges.

Martin was asked in a letter from the ten individuals not to certify contempt citations to the United States district attorney. They also asked that they be given a hearing before him.

He said he believes in giving the Federal Bureau of Investigation "every encouragement in the fight

Kashmir Tribes Slay Three In Raids on Convent in India

NEW DELHI, Nov. 3 (AP)—The government of India announced tonight that tribal invaders of Kashmir state had attacked a convent in Baramulla, about 25 miles west of Srinagar, capital of Kashmir, killing the assistant mother superior, British officer and his wife.

A communique said the mother superior was wounded seriously, the children of the slain British officer were missing, and European residents of the convent were assaulted. The attack occurred several days ago.

The announcement did not identify the convent or name the victims, saying details of the attack were not known.

"Our forces have cleared the village of Pattan on the Srinagar-Baramulla road of raiders," the communique added. "Casualties were inflicted on the raiders. Aircraft of the Royal Indian air force again made sorties today."

Meanwhile, as the Indian government was sending men and munitions to Kashmir to force a showdown fight with invading Pathan tribesmen, the American embassy said it was checking the status of American pilots flying men and supplies to Srinagar.

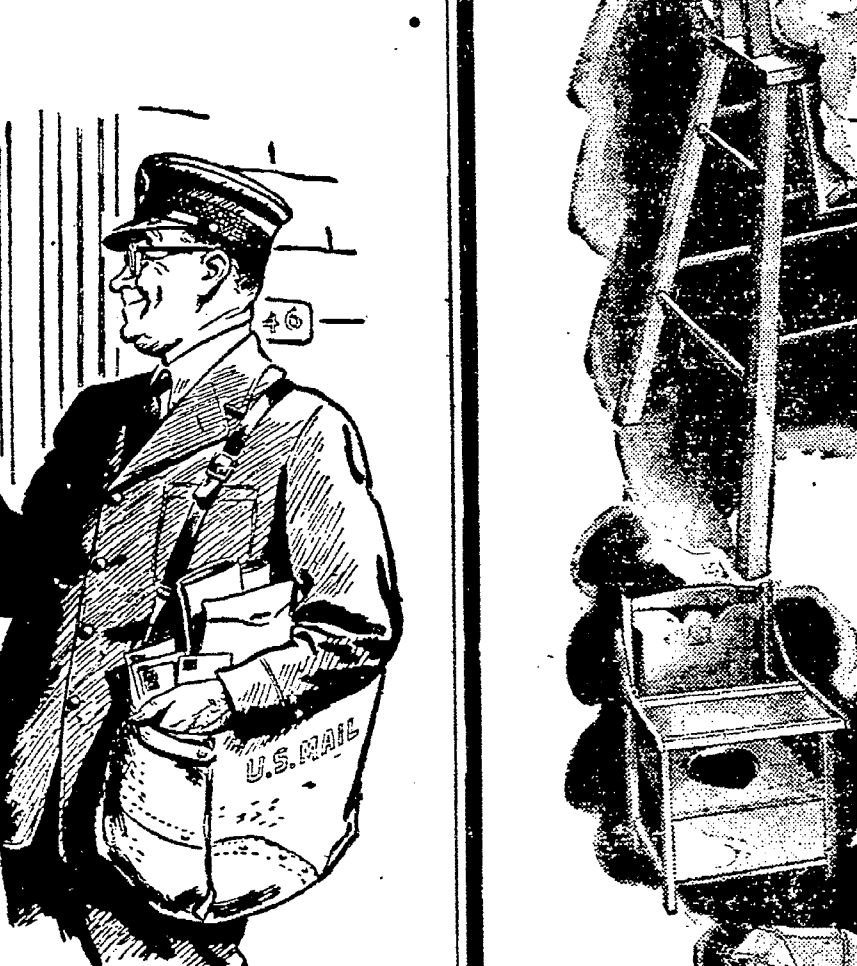

The British high commissioner's office was making a similar investigation regarding British pilots employed by Indian civilian lines. It was not known how many Americans or British are participating in the operation.

Australian pilots employed by civilian air lines in India have been withdrawn from the job of flying men and arms to support Indian troops fighting in Kashmir.

Civilian airline planes have been requisitioned by the government to fly reinforcements to Srinagar, main objective of the invaders.

A Fair Return

Stock of the Bell System has long been an investment for hundreds of thousands of everyday people in all walks of life... for you, perhaps, and your neighbor; for school teachers and widows; for farmers and mechanics; for professors and the clergy; for telephone men and women.

These people, through their savings, share in the ownership of the Bell System; and it is our responsibility to see to it that they receive a fair return on the dollars they have invested in Bell System stock. Those dollars are vital to us. They are the dollars we use to build and expand the telephone system.

Cardinal Dougherty Threatens Boycott Of Two Theaters

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3—Dennis Cardinal Dougherty today threatened two Philadelphia theaters exhibiting pictures classified by the National Catholic Legion of Decency as "wholly objectionable" with a one year boycott.

In identical letters sent to William Goldman, owner of the Er-langer theater where Howard Hughes' production of "The Out-law" is being shown, and to 20th Century Fox, Inc., owner of the Fox theater where "Forever Amber" is the attraction, the Cardinal said "I shall direct all Catholics in this (Philadelphia) archdiocese to boycott (your two theaters) for one year" unless the warning is heeded in 48 hours.

Both the clergy and laity of the archdiocese, numbering more than 1,000,000 people, the cardinal said, have been "provoked" by the presentation of the two pictures in the face of the Legion of Decency ban.

The boycott would be in effect against all productions at the Er-langer and Fox theaters, the cardinal said. It also would apply to all Fox company productions "in no matter what theaters they may be shown," and will apply on the same basis to "any other theaters that dare exhibit these indecent films."

James F. O'Neil, national commander of the American Legion, last night said the Legion favors outlawing the Communist party, in this country and stands "resolutely" behind the recent congressional investigation of Reds in Hollywood.

School Directors At Warwick Discuss Baseball Diamond

A lengthy discussion on ways of making the baseball diamond at Warwick Consolidated school play-able highlighted last night's meeting of the school board.

Use of the field for next Summer had been granted by the board to the Knauertown Community Baseball club, and board members wanted to make it into a suitable field.

"With a little work it could be made into the ideal baseball diamond of Chester county," William Montgomery, principal said. Board members generally agreed that grading the field and switching the diamond's position in the grounds would solve the problem.

Members of the board will meet with team players at the field Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock to work out details of the project.

It was announced that Dr. H. T. Smith would complete his examination of students in odd-numbered Grades 1 to 11 this afternoon. He will be aided by Janet Armstrong, State nurse, and Helen Garyne, clerk.

A feature of the Sophomore class dance Nov. 22 will be the appearance of the new school orchestra, organized by the board this year under the direction of Miriam Hollowell, music supervisor.

Secretary W. F. Noble, who is seriously ill in Pottstown hospital, was the only member absent. Those present were I. D. Christman, president; Frederick G. Erb, acting secretary; J. Oliver Houck, treasurer, and C. Guy Wells.

East Nantmeal Holds Church Meetings

A series of evangelistic meetings is being held at the East Nantmeal Baptist church this week, with the Rev. Clayton H. Gray, of Nichols, N. Y., preaching every evening at 7:45 o'clock.

His topic last night was "Sinner, draw up a chair; there is room for you."

Other sermons this week will be: Tonight, "The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord"; tomorrow, "The gospel and the Good Samaritan"; Thursday, "The Sufficiency of God's Grace"; Friday, "Where do men go when they die"; Saturday, "What will God say when He shall punish thee?"; Sunday, 11 a. m., "The coming of Christ for His saints"; Sunday, 7:45 p. m., "The coming of Christ with His Saints."

The Rev. Gray also will hold a service at Bethesda Baptist church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, preaching on "The shepherd work of Christ."

Miss Betty Scheeler and Miss Bunnie Dietz, both of Elverson, will sing at each of the services this week, and congregational singing also will be held.

The Rev. Clayton J. Bates is the pastor of East Nantmeal Baptist church.

British Eye Results Of Scotland Election

LONDON, Nov. 3 (P) — Scotland will hold its municipal elections tomorrow and British political leaders looked for signs whether voters would continue the rightwing trend that brought a startling defeat Saturday to the ruling Labor party in English and Welsh local balloting.

Complete returns from Saturday's municipal vote in England and Wales disclosed net Conservative gains of 621 city council seats and net Labor losses of 652 seats.

Defendant Pays Costs; Disorderly Case Settled

Charged with disorderly conduct, Elmer Luft, of 100 South Evans street, was given a hearing last night at borough hall by Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward.

The charge was preferred by Helen Gephart, of 723 Water street, who testified Luft had annoyed her. The case was settled by Luft paying the costs. The warrant was served by Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads.

Today's Election to Cost County $35,000

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Nov. 3 — The election tomorrow will cost the taxpayers of Montgomery county between $35,000 and $40,000, it was estimated today by Calvin Rieg, chief clerk of the County Election bureau.

Everything is in readiness for the election with all necessary equipment, ballot boxes and ballots having been delivered to all the 191 polling places in the county.

A total of 202,710 ballots have been

Recreation Program For Winter Planned By Hilldale Tenants

An ambitious winter program was mapped out by 100 members of the Hilldale Tenants organization at the Community building last night. The residents are planning an orchestra, teen-age club, card parties, women's sewing circle and a sports committee to sponsor local ball games.

R. Lester Monks, head of the tenants' group, told them, "This organization is to try to make Hilldale a better place to live in. We have to learn to co-operate since we live in such close quarters here."

Monks said that the formation of the new groups would be undertaken immediately.

Another project will be the establishment of a monthly paper in Hilldale, the first issue of which is scheduled tentatively to appear next month.

Mrs. Florence Bealer was reappointed librarian in Hilldale, and Mrs. Florence Sullivan was elected treasurer of the tenants' organization.

The group voted its thanks to the Montgomery County Housing authority for the new street lights which were installed two weeks ago.

Plane Service in Cairo Restricted by Cholera

CAIRO, Nov. 3 (P) — Plane service from this crossroads of international airlines was restricted further today because of barriers raised by other countries against traffic from Egypt during a cholera epidemic blamed for 8571 deaths.

CROWDS ATTRACTED TO TUBIS 20TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

The 20th anniversary of the founding of Tubis Shoes is now being fittingly observed. They are proud of the progress achieved since their most modest beginning in 1927 and they take pride and pleasure in the rise of the business that has been founded on the principle of honesty and integrity to its customers.

Much intensive planning has been done prior to the announcement of this anniversary event. Tubis Shoes is quite anxious to register their appreciation for the splendid patronage accorded them during the years past and also to make the event most interesting and impressive for their customers.

To this end, Tubis has gone to great extremes in providing the interest. Beginning with a $200 Philco Radio, with a Bulova Wrist Watch, with 2 diamonds, 21 Jewels and 14-Karat, as second prize, the management is presenting 15 prizes to be awarded at the conclusion of the anniversary event.

Other prizes included in this array of gifts include a General

Electric Vacuum Cleaner, Dormeyer Electric Food Mixer, a table model Philco Radio, New Tale Tip Toe Gem Electric Iron, year's subscription to Charm, year's subscription to Seventeen, year's subscription to "Calling All Girls." Special awards for boys include Lionel Electric Train Set with whistle, station and signal gate, Flexible Flyer Sled and ball bearing Roller Skates. Girls will receive a beautiful doll coach and doll set, a life size doll and an aluminum utensil set.

From a merchandising standpoint, Tubis is ready with the greatest array of shoe values ever offered local women and children. The star-studded list of America's famous brands of shoes includes Naturalizer, Fook Glove, Menihan, Clinic Nurse Shoes, Modecraft, Sandler of Boston, Dr. Posner's Children's Shoes, Johansen, Tramp Along and Dr. Locke. Offerings on "Blue Moon" Hosiery and Classic Handbags are also included. (Adv.)

READERS SAY:

Children Who Read So Happy They Cry

Letters must not be more than 250 words long, of current topics and must not involve personalities. Writers must sign their names and give street address as evidence of good faith but these will be withheld from publication on request. It is a criminal offense to sign another person's name. Poetry, and communications advocating the election of political candidates are not acceptable.

Politics Threaten System

To the Editor: The Democrats want to throw out the Pottstown public school reading program. Wouldn't the teachers have something to say about this? They have to do the teaching.

Teachers have told me how valuable the help in that the reading specialist is giving them. They want it to continue. I am sure they will not let the Democrats want to tear down our good school program for political purposes. Why do they want to take away from our children a program that has proven so valuable?

Did you ever hear little children reading so well that they cried? I did! And dozens of other parents had tears in their eyes as they listened.

Visit the schools and see how happy the children are today. They are succeeding. That's why they are so happy.

The present body of directors had the courage to approve the new program. They'll have the courage to support more advancement in our schools.

I am more interested in good education than in party politics. I'm supporting for school directors the men who have supported a good educational program and who I know will continue to do so.

European Elections Swing From Left

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

ELECTIONS in western Europe during the past few weeks, climaxed by the conservative sweep in Britain Saturday, show a distinct ebb in the leftist tide which inundated the whole area immediately after the war.

Although most of the voting has been in municipal elections, the campaigns have been waged largely on national issues and so can be taken as a true indication of popular feeling.

The Communists definitely have taken it on the chin after Russian refusal to participate in the Paris conference on the Marshall plan and after formation of the Eastern European axis meant to isolate them. Even the local Communist parties owe their allegiance to Moscow rather than to their own national governments.

It would be incorrect, or at least premature, to assume, however, that the votes mean more than a surface revulsion against Socialism.

IN ITALY, where the majority leftwing Socialist faction operates in coalition with the Communists, they didn't fare so well in the Rome elections. There was a very distinct trend toward consolidation of all anti-Communist strength behind the De Gasperi government.

Communists were hard hit again in Denmark, where they have been making considerable noise and have been especially antagonistic toward the United States. Their representation in parliament was cut in half.

In Norway's municipal elections the trend was the same. The Communists lost heavily and the 1945 majority of the Laborites was almost exactly reversed in favor of the Conservatives.

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 3—I think it's high time for someone to doff his bonnet publicly to local independent producers, who are showing courage and the common sense that she's displaying in her current venture as an independent producer. Consider the circumstances under which her picture, "The Velvet Touch," was launched.

Hollywood, in general, was in a state of absolute panic because of the confiscatory English tax and the impending loss of other foreign markets. The banks which customarily finance independent production shared the panic to such an extent that they refused to make their usual loans. Miss Russell and her two associates, Frederick Brison, her husband, and Director Dudley Nichols, unlike most independent producers, were investing their own money in their picture, and that picture was budgeted at nearly $2,000,000. Last but not least, Miss Russell, by deferring, or canceling her own production plans, could have commanded, immediately, a salary of $200,000 from any of three major studios.

"The Velvet Touch" is the only high-budgeted, honestly independent picture put before the cameras since the British tax was enacted! Miss Russell and her partners simply refused to be scared into either delaying the picture or cheapening their product. And I'm doffing my bonnet particularly because of "Roz" Russell's reasoning in the matter. Said she: "The American market is ample to return a profit if a picture is a GOOD picture. We propose to make a good picture. If we make a bad one, we deserve to lose our investment."

That willingness to accept natural risks is uncommon in Hollywood. It's the sort of business philosophy that is needed. I hope their picture is not only good, but great.

Consider Lou Doubles

RUN-OF-THE-MILL players seldom think of doubling an opponent's low contract for penalties. Instead, with ample strength for such action, they nearly always go ahead and make another bid. It seems never to have occurred to them that beating the other fellow's vulnerable contract even a single trick produces a better score, if it is doubled, than any less-than-game contract by their own side. And the same of course applies to beating a not-vulnerable contract two tricks. It pays always to consider doubles of low overcalls especially, if your partner had already shown ability to bid.

RESCUE MISSION — Daisy Walton, daughter of Amos Walton, Washington street, has been admitted to a Rescue Mission of the Salvation Army in Philadelphia, through the efforts of Captain Chandler, who is in charge of the barracks located in Pottstown.

CRACKED FRAME — Just as the night shift was about to take charge at a local mill, one of the housings of the large rollers broke, which caused a shut down of the entire plant for about two days. A large loss is entailed as the frame that cracked is a heavy one.

LATE HALLOWEEN — Apparently, for some, Halloween is not yet over. Farmers in this section are still finding pairs removed from their fences, gates exchanged and fatted hocks in neighbors' fields. Some even found their plows in the tree tops and their wagons taken apart and hidden in various parts of the farm.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Chain Letters Back...

Matter of Opinion...

SUCKER GAME — The old chain letter scheme, which pops up periodically with variations, again is claiming its share of "suckers" in Pottstown. Remember when they cost each person on the list only a dime? Well, it's a four-buck proposition now. Here is how the current scheme operates: You purchase a copy of the letter for $2, send an additional $2 to the person whose name and address is on top of your letter. You then make two copies of the letter you purchased, dropping the top name and adding your own at the bottom. Then you sell the first copy for $2, do the same with the second copy. These purchasers follow the same procedure. The lure is a pot of $2143 when and if the chain is completed.

Many new years you may see, but happy ones you cannot see without deserving them. These virtue, honor, and knowledge alone can merit, alone can produce.—Chesterfield.

Last Minute Reminder

NOT starting in this statement: Today is election.

Most everyone knows it. But not everyone knows it is his bounden duty to vote today. That's the reason for this reminder.

It shouldn't be necessary to remind good Americans that today is election day. But there are folks who forget the importance of the day and make arrangements for other things that are perhaps less important.

Today is an important day in Pottstown's public life. It is a day on which you voters elect the persons who will fill important public offices for the next four years. Those offices should be filled by a majority vote from a great majority of the citizens, and not by any mere minority.

Following the primaries there were complaints about improper behavior at the polls in certain wards.

Complaints days after the behavior are too late.

The time to make complaints is election day.

The Montgomery county court will be in session all day specifically to hear of any complaints about election irregularity.

If you see something wrong election day, it is your duty as a citizen to take up the matter promptly with the authorities at the court house in Norristown.

The time to stop election irregularities is when they are going on. Intimidation of voters, improper influences, and illegal assistance can be stopped in a jiffy if the proper authorities are informed of infractions. There are ample provisions to meet any exigencies on election day.

It is up to the citizens to keep the election clean. It can be kept clean and honest by exercising just a little common sense.

Let's vote today and see that everybody else can vote without interference. It can be done. It must be done. It will be done.

Pottstown should have good officers administer the affairs of the borough, of the school board. The only way to obtain GOOD officials is for the Good voter to cast his ballot.

Vote today!

Educational Advantages Superior

To the Editor: I have visited the Pottstown elementary schools a number of times during the last three years. I feel that the children have many more advantages in education today than they did eight or ten years ago. The pupils' method of studying history and geography and the way they discuss topics is far better than the way we studied our lessons at home and then the next day answered questions asked by the teacher.

I have been especially pleased with the children's reading ability. It is the basis of good education. It was interesting to compare the reading done by the children who have had the Cord's method and two newcomers in the room who had been taught some obsolete method. I am sure I was not so far advanced as my daughter is at the end of my second year in school.

More parents should visit the schools and acquaint themselves with what is being done. Then we parents could easily understand how our children are taught to think and be alert at all times.

Pottstown A PARENT

IN ENGLAND and France, however, there are strong indications that the voters were expressing themselves more against economic conditions than governmental theories.

That can only mean that stabilization is uppermost in their minds, outweighing long-range Socialist experimentation. The Ramadier government in France already has adopted a middle-of-the-road policy designed to prevent De Gaulle's extreme right from taking advantage of public discontent, and the British Socialists can be expected to follow suit.

Nationalization of the British steel industry, already delayed lest it rock the boat of U. S. economic aid, probably will be shelved indefinitely.

THE DERACON from the standpoint of the British Socialists began in September, when their 1945 majority in one of Liverpool's grimmest industrial districts was reduced by two thirds. Now the Conservatives have won back approximately half of the municipal council seats they lost in 1945.

All this can hardly be taken to mean that Socialism has reached its crest in England and Western Europe. But it obviously is a swing back toward the center, where moderate Socialists will have the whip hand over their more extreme adherents who have been flirting with the Communists.

BOTTLE DIES — John B. Moser, 404 S. Jefferson avenue, well-known citizen of Pottstown who for 25 years had been engaged in the bottling business, died last night at 11:30 o'clock. It is believed that death was due to heart failure.

BANNER DAY — First ME congregation will observe its 84th anniversary tomorrow, and at the same time it will throw open to the general public and membership a completely renovated church edifice. Several former pastors and prominent divines of the Methodist church will speak.

ENTERTAINERS FRIENDS — Miss Helen Carroll, 128 Walnut street, entertained a number of her fellow employees at a dinner last night. Those present were Evelyn Speise, Mrs. Richard Scheetz, Bessie Fulmer, Ada Smith, Sarah Fretz, Elizabeth Friday and Jennie Carroll.

LETTERS TELL the purchasers that it's all legal, explaining that you pass the letters along personally. The only thing that goes through the mail is the $2 for the person whose name is at the top of the list. But the National Better Business Bureau, in a recent bulletin, warns against playing the game. It said that postal inspectors have been alerted to intercept these communications. It's a lottery scheme, the bureau says, because "endless chains are not endless. Those who are invited into a chain already operating for some time will find that the well of suckers has run dry . . . and they are out $4"

OTHER SHOE — Confidential tip to the girls — men like daring dresses on the other fellows' girl — not theirs. That was the essence of opinion expressed by a group of collegians, including Eugene Rossides of Columbia football fame, who served on a male-tested fashion jury. Believe it or not, they voted consistently for gowns with some covering over shoulder or upper arm or with narrow shoulder straps. The completely bare shoulder decolletage was something delightful to them — only on the other fellow's girl.

TAX RELIEF PROMISED — Husband-wife income-splitting for tax purposes is all but certain next year, says "Business Week." G. O. P. leaders in Congress are informally agreed on writing this into their "quickie" personal income tax-cut bill. They figure it will switch enough Democratic votes to insure overriding any veto. The plan is to push the old Knutson tax-cut bill, restyled, through Congress by March. Total cut will still be held to the original $4-billion; smaller rate reduction will be given to middle-income taxpayers who benefit most from the income-splitting feature. After this bill is through, Republicans plan a second tax measure, including an overhauling of corporate income and excise levies.

To the Quakers, the Palm

PROBABLY no happier choice has ever been made than in awarding this year's Nobel Peace Prize to the Society of Friends, the Quakers. Relatively few in number, they truly are a leaven of mankind.

Themselves steadfastly opposed to war, they have done more for the cause of peace by their example than has been accomplished by all the wordy winds of statesmen blowing almost ceaselessly around the globe.

Who would say this international conference or that premier, or yonder foreign minister really has succeeded in an effort to push the menace of war a little deeper into the remote shades of the future?

Yet the Quakers have held no plenary sessions, sent out no ambassadors, drawn up no pacts, treaties or agreements all be-ribboned and sealed with wax.

These people have, however, demonstrated a deep respect for the life of man—something which the war-makers count as naught. In the second World War as in the first, they hurried to the relief of the suffering and the hungry, carrying on their work long after the guns were silenced.

In the year about to end, for example, the American Service Committee of Philadelphia—which shares the prize with the Friends' Service Council of London—devoted $7,238,840 or its $8,365,326 budget to overseas activities. This is typical of the Friends' devotion to humanity which, were it widespread enough, would insure enduring peace by making war inconceivable.

The Quakers deserve the palm.

Residents' Request Rejected

To the Editor: Our local school board has been praised and excelled at various times recently in the public press for the work it has done over the past few years for the children of our town. And through the same medium we have also read of their errors and omissions, such as one-man rule, and of the occasional disregard of the will of the voters who put them in office.

It is very much to the latter, I'm sorry to say, to which I wish to subscribe. A few short months ago the writer had occasion to contact one of the officials of the board with the view toward securing the proposed parking ban on the north side of Chestnut street between Charlotte and Hanover, as much of the school property would be affected.

It was most certainly to the advantage of the board to fall in line and support the residents of the area who were, and still are, very much incensed about the whole idea.

But our request was turned down flat and the board refused to go along with reasons still unknown.

I thought these men were supposed to serve the will of the people. Will they let our vote? We'll continue to work against them as long as they make it necessary.

Pottstown LONG-TIME VOTER

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

FRANK T., 21, analyzes himself very well.

Dr. Crane, I happen to be an only child. I began to work at a fair salary with a dozen other young fellows of about my own age.

"But I get along quite well with my associates, and seem to be socially well adjusted, partly as a result of joining your Compliment Club last year.

"My mother and father treat me wonderfully, too, but whenever they ask a favor of me, I become sulky, and I don't know why.

"For example, my mother may ask me to take her shopping in my car. Although I don't refuse her request, I'll show many signs that I am not enthusiastic over the idea. And I may not give two civil answers to all her questions on the entire trip, or even for several hours afterwards.

"On such a trip, I get into an ugly mood, or turn glum and quiet. Dr. Crane, I don't want to be this way, but what is wrong with me?"

It is always gratifying to meet an individual who can describe his problem accurately. Part of our mental difficulties are solved as soon as we can delineate them.

Indeed, it is to be urged that patients to this that I usually urge them to write their entire problem in great detail. Many of them, of course, don't like to do this.

They'd much rather come down to the office and talk amiably for two or three hours, even though they must pay a good fee for taking up my time in such fashion, than do the hard work of thinking their own problem through.

Many patients, therefore, don't even know what their problem is, so of course they have no idea of how to solve it. They're refused to face themselves and even put their problem into words!

In modern medicine, more emphasis is placed on diagnosis than on prescribing. Why? Because all scientific progress depends primarily on an accurate knowledge of the problem.

Frank's difficulty has been well set forth in his own words. I asked him if he begrudged driving a neighbor downtown in his car. He said he didn't.

Nor does he have any objection to taking his pals or his girl friend for a drive. His aversion, therefore, is not a miserly refusal to burn up gasoline in going favors for people.

He simply dislikes being errand boy or private chauffeur for his own parents. Why?

Because he suffers, as do millions of other young people, from a dislike of being thought of as a child. I have told you in previous Case Records how eagerly youngsters wish to be grown. Childhood is a hated serfdom out of which they are only too glad to scramble.

As a rule, however, it is the parent who complains of having unappreciative children like Frank. The son seldom comes to me for advice in such a situation.

Sometimes a broader perspective actually becomes the cure for many of our psychological problems.

But always face your dilemma and outline your problem in words. That's often half the cure!

Consider Lou Doubles

RUN-OF-THE-MILL players seldom think of doubling an opponent's low contract for penalties. Instead, with ample strength for such action, they nearly always go ahead and make another bid. It seems never to have occurred to them that beating the other fellow's vulnerable contract even a single trick produces a better score, if it is doubled, than any less-than-game contract by their own side. And the same of course applies to beating a not-vulnerable contract two tricks. It pays always to consider doubles of low overcalls especially, if your partner had already shown ability to bid.

Archduke Otto of Austria and a wealthy society divorcee are sniffing orange blossoms. She's a New Yorker. . . Motion picture producers are screaming and tearing their hair over the "new look" in women's fashions. They say it dates their pictures, threatening to give production investments an unplanned comedy time by the time they can be released. . . Morton Downey has treated himself to a fantastic new automobile. Not a convertible, but — no kidding — a "collapsible." The top goes down and the sides fold away and all kinds of things happen to it.

Victor Mature's favorite lass remains Dotty Barry, a California society belle. Some folks even think they're married. . . The Fifth Avenue Association has protested against the daily parade of Nanette Fredrics, the "glamor sandwich girl." They consider her sign-carrying for the 1-2-3 Club, is undignified.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce is shopping for a town residence. . . John Doll and Margaret Whiting are a new heart-throb combine. . . Lorraine De Wood, the girl who made headlines in the "Satira" case, has retired from show business since her recent marriage to a doctor. . . The Jack Warners divorce announcement is expected in the near future.

Newspapers still suffer from a newsprint shortage. But two new cheeseecake magazines hit the stands last week!

CUTE SAYING DEPT — The small son of a North End couple, whose parents deservedly were popular for their tact and their courteous speech, appeared at the home of a neighbor and asked the woman of the house if he might look at the parlor rug. Permission was granted. The householder was somewhat astonished to see the little fellow stoop over the rug and stare at it silently for more than a minute. He straightened himself, and, meeting her wondering expression, triumphantly said: "It doesn't make me sick!"

Truman Cabinet Split

THE CABINET split over the aid-to-Europe program continues to widen.

Smarting over a complete brush-off on Truman's waste less campaign, Treasury boss Snyder and Agriculture Secretary Anderson (the first learned about eggless, meatless and poultryless days from the newspapers) stubbornly insist on year-to-year relief grants, opposing a four-year commitment for the Marshall Plan.

Speechless Official Speaks

To the Editor: Tuesday night a Fourth ward councilman was smoked out by the publicity given Hubley's run in The Mercury. Late last night, a month, neither Fourth Ward councilman was interested in Hubley's run.

Oh, yes, election is here. A councilman after sitting down for two years gets on on his feet to speak. Where? In council? No, in a clubhouse. Is he speechless when he gets out of his element? Pottstown FOURTH WARD CITIZEN

Garbage Deal Bad Business

To the Editor: The present borough council has set up a garbage collection plan, now in operation, creating a virtual monopoly which will cost borough residents $100,000 a year.

They called in all the garbage collectors and assigned them territories protected by contract. They set the rates higher than ever. We are now paying 30 cents per week for one small can which previously cost 25 cents, and told the collectors to go to work.

The borough sanitary committee states there are $200,000 in the borough where collections are made. At the rate of 30 cents each week for 52 weeks, the collectors will collect $96,720. Since stores, hotels, restaurants, tap rooms, clubs and lunch counters pay $2 to $3 per week for this service the total amount collected under the new plan will exceed $100,000 a year.

That is a lot of money for a service which brings only one conclusion. Pottstown is growing by leaps and bounds; which means more brain work for this so-called business administration controlling our borough's business affairs.

Should they call this good business administration. I personally do not know what will become of our borough-owned water works.

Tomorrow's Problem

South led his club K and then—reckoning that further club leads might set up a fourth-round J for East—switched to the spade. 4 North of course won with the A and returned the 5 to the K. With one trick in East added on four hearts and the diamond A to have six, but when he gave up control by leading toward the diamond Q, black cards took the rest for the defenders, setting him one trick.

That single trick was worth 200 points to North and South, better than they could have done in any contract of their own, which would have been 3-Spades. The 90 points for that plus the 50 awarded in duplicates for a less-than-game contract, would have added up to only 140. While the difference would have been clearer in duplicate, where deals get played in various contracts, the value of it existed just the same in rubbers.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

BECAUSE so many American soldiers were stationed in tropical areas during the war, it is important for all of us to become familiar with the symptoms of a disorder called amebiasis, also known as amebic dysentery.

We have always had carriers of the disease in this country, but the number is now greatly increased due to the war. It is estimated that among troops stationed in certain areas, 18 to 25 per cent developed amebic dysentery. Of course, many were treated and cured but many others returned home without realizing they had the disease.

The danger is now that unless we are on the alert, these men may unwittingly pass it to others until it becomes widespread.

Caused by a parasite called andamoeba histolytica, amebiasis is peculiar in that it may cause mild symptoms in many people, while affecting others very severely or even fatally. These fatal cases are usually due to liver abscesses or ulcers of the bowel which sometimes develop when the disease is neglected.

The first signs of amebic dysentery in many instances is pain in the abdomen together with diarrhea or frequent bowel movements. To make a definite diagnosis the parasites must be found in the stools and it takes a specially trained laboratory expert to recognize them.

The treatment which physicians gave was first to put the patient to bed, preferably in a hospital. Then give known as emetine hydrochloride was given daily by injection under the skin for seven days when the patient had liver abscesses. Sometimes the patient was given another drug known as carbarsone, three times daily for ten days by mouth.

If diarrhea was present, the diet was limited in bulky foods and roughage. Severe diarrhea was treated with such things as paregoric.

While receiving the emetine, the patients were kept in bed.

If any heart damage was thought to be present, electrocardiograms or electrical tracings of the heart beat were taken before and during treatment while the blood pressure was checked twice a day.

On the eighth, ninth, and tenth days, the stools were examined for presence of the amebae. If none was found and the patients were free of symptoms, they were then given an iodine-containing preparation known as diodoquin, three times a day for fourteen days.

On the other hand, after the completion of the emetine and carbarsone treatment, the parasites were still found in the stools and moderate or severe symptoms were still present, the patients were given a substance known as viofilm rather than the diodoquin.

Attorney Assails Warden's Tactics In Killing Convicts

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Nov. 3 (AP)—A Government prosecutor argued today that the action of a warden in calling for pick handles terrified a group of Negro convicts before eight of them were shot to death at a prison camp the past July 11. The slayings were unjustified, Assistant U. S. Attorney Greene B. Everett told a Federal court jury, because "not one prisoner had attempted to escape" until the warden later started firing.

Summing up at the trial of Warden H. C. Wooten and four guards on Federal charges the attorney said both prosecution and defense agreed that guards have a right to shoot to protect an escape attempt.

But, he added, a warden has "no right to create a situation that might lead a prisoner to believe an assault was going to be made on him." That was what happened, he contended, when Warden Wooten sent for pick handles after 27 prisoners were brought back to camp from a work detail.

Worthy and Attorney Guy Mc-Nach, former Brunswick, W. C. Lawyer and H. L. Holmes are charged with violating the civil rights of the prisoners in shooting them unnecessarily. If convicted, they would be liable to a year in prison, a $10,000 fine or both.

All five were held blameless by State and local authorities in earlier hearings.

Revivalist

LT. COL. WILLIAM S. QUIRK

Revivals Arranged By Salvation Army

Lt. Col. William S. Quirk, of the Salvation Army, will lead revival meetings at Salvation Army headquarters, 268 King street, from today until Sunday, at 7:30 p. m.

A native of the Isle of Man, Lt. Col. Quirk has served with this organization since 1894 when he was commissioned from the Jersey City, N. J., Training college.

He served throughout eastern United States, as field officer, young people's secretary for the Atlantic coast Province and as divisional commander in Boston, Cincinnati, and Albany.

During World War I the revivalist worked 11 months in France, and since his retirement in 1937 has been conducting evangelistic campaigns in the South and East.

Princess and Fiance Attend London Show

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth and her future husband, Lt. Philip Mountbatten, went to their first big theater party together tonight and were acclaimed by the audience which paid thousands of pounds to see the array of stage headliners chosen for Britain's annual royal command variety performance.

A full house of more than 2000 at the Palladium cheered and applauded the entire royal party, seated in a flower decorated box, but it obviously was the presence of the princess and her fiance which stirred the greatest interest.

Tax Group Gives Report to House Unit Today, Labor Delegate Opposes Changes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Controversy developed today within a ten-man special tax study committee which tomorrow is expected to recommend a general revision of Federal taxes to the House ways and means committee.

A majority of the group, it is understood, will recommend 46 major changes in tax laws, 33 of them affecting individual income levies.

Reports circulated on Capitol Hill that APL vice President Matthew Woll, labor's member of the committee, will file a minority report contending that the majority proposals would:

1. Shift the tax load from those best able to pay to those least able to pay.
2. Disregard revenue needs for European aid.
3. Severely reduce federal revenues.

It is understood that other committee members will sign the majority report.

The study group was set up by the ways and means committee, with Roswell Magill, New York lawyer, as chairman.

Magill was an assistant Treasury secretary during the early administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He supported the $4,000,000,000 tax cutting bill which President Truman stopped twice with vetoes earlier this year.

Both the majority and minority reports will be made public tomorrow, when they are filed with the House.

Youth Puts in Writing Confession of Murder

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Howard Lang, 12, a frail, tow-headed youngster who was termed a "smart alec" by his mother, today signed a statement that he killed a seven-year-old playmate.

Coroner A. L. Brodie announced the youth had scrawled his signature on a piece of paper bearing this single, simple sentence: "I killed Lonnie Fellick on Saturday, Oct. 18, 1947, in Thatcher Woods forest preserve."

Officers Nominated By Fire Companies; Contributions Listed

Nomination of officers for 1948 occupied two of the three area fire companies holding their meetings last night.

In addition to the nominations, the announcement of donation to the Pottstown Community Chest was among the business matters discussed by 35 members of the Limerick Fire company.

Elections will be held Dec. 1 from the following slate:

President, C. V. Miller, Clarence Schurr and E. J. Horner; vice president, Michael Ondo and E. G. Ahlum; financial secretary, Orion Sweeney; Recording secretary, W. W. Kastle; treasurer, William H. Marshall; fire chief, Stanley Norak.

Miller, Sweeney, Kastle, Marshall, and Norak are incumbents. Fifteen new members were voted to the fire company last night, and 11 propositions for membership were received.

A donation to the Women's Guild of Limerick also was announced by the Limerick firemen.

President Miller presided at the meeting.

Seventy-five members of the West End Fire company nominated a slate of officers for the Nov. 28 election, at a meeting held at the fire house last night.

The nominees include: Clyde W. Ludwig, president; John Kupp, vice president; Russell C. Bush, treasurer; Douglas Ludwig, financial secretary; Harvey Gist, recording secretary; Roy M. Eagle, fire chief, and Raymond Egolf, chief engineer.

Eagle and Egolf are incumbents. William W. Rickert, president of West End, was in charge of the meeting.

The Limerick Fire company, in a brief meeting, heard Vice President Russell Cassell, in charge of the session, review routine business matters of the past month.

Thirty members of the company were present.

the past 12 years. His appointment to his present post became effective the past Saturday.

Before coming to Pottstown, he was senior procedure analyst at the State headquarters in Harrisburg.

His work with the employment service also includes serving in the Reading area office during the war, manager of the Reading local office, manager of the Pottstown office in 1946, and service as a supervisor in the Reading office.

Nally formerly was employed in the division superintendent's office of the Pennsylvania railroad for 15 years.

He served as a sergeant with the air corps during the first World War. Married to the former Elizabeth Kiernan, of Reading, he has three sons.

Safira Murder Trial Is Recessed for 10 Days

HAVANA, Nov. 3 (P)—Another ten-day postponement was ordered today in the long-extended trial of dancer Patricia (Safira) Schmidt on a charge of homicide in the shooting of John Lester Mee, Chicago, aboard his yacht in Havana harbor the past April.

It was the fourth such delay, plus weekends and a series of holidays which have extended it even farther. Failure of witnesses again to appear caused Presiding Judge Cristobal Muro to recess the case until Nov. 14. With the latest delay, the trial has had 55 days of postponements and holidays and only six full days of full sessions.

PATTON HELD —

ton said in another chapter, "is ridicule."

(Gen. Eisenhower conducted an inquiry of the incident and found that Patton actually had slapped two men, both of whom had a nervous disorder. One also had a temperature. The supreme commander's report said Patton was guilty of reprehensible conduct with respect to the two enlisted men.)

But befuddled GIs were not the only targets of Patton's eruptions. He was particularly critical of British Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery. Generals Eisenhower and Bradley, the latter his immediate superior in France and Germany as commander of Twelfth Army Group, likewise came in for Patton salvos.

Patton, a man of contrasts and contradictions, spoke in "War As I Knew It" of possible "mistakes" of omission or commission on his part in Europe but he owned up to only one "error." He wrote:

"I can say this: that throughout the campaign in Europe, I know of no error I made except that of failing to send a combat command to Hammelburg. Otherwise, my operations were, to me, strictly satisfactory. In every case, practically throughout the campaign, I was under wraps from the high command. This may have been a good thing, as perhaps I am too impetuous. However, I do not believe I was and feel that had I been permitted to go all out, the war would have ended sooner and more lives would have been saved. Particularly I think this statement applies to the times when, in the early days of September, when we were halted, owing to the desire, or necessity, of General Eisenhower in backing Montgomery's move in the north. At that time there was no question of doubt but that we could have gone through and on across the Rhine within ten days. This would have saved a great many thousand men."

U. N. CONDEMNS —

there is no reference in it to those countries where war propaganda is particularly widespread."

"The principal purpose of the Soviet proposals, as is known, consists in condemning propaganda for a new war and inciting of a new war," the Soviet chief delegate said. "The solution of this important problem must be given priority over all other considerations and any other part of the resolutions proposed on this question."

As Vishinsky sat down, Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippines chief delegate, took the rostrum to declare that "no single delegation can say this resolution is the product of their exclusive efforts."

Romulo asked the assembly to note that "indictment and angry recriminations are gone from the resolution."

"There is no truth to the war-monger charges against the United States," Romulo said. He and Vishinsky were the only speakers on this subject.

He headed the Polish government in exile in London during the war years. He returned to Poland more than two years ago at the behest of Winston Churchill, then prime minister, to help form the "provisional government of national unity." He was a vice premier in that regime.

"At the (Warsaw) station I was not recognized," he said. "I had on the same clothes I am wearing now and was wearing a pair of glasses which I do not usually wear. Our train was bound for Lodz and Kalisz on the western frontier."

Mikolajczyk said he met with his party for the last time Oct. 8 and a resolution was passed acknowledging that intimidation had made it practically impossible to carry on as opponents of the government.

Norco School Board Names D. S. Harris To Teaching Berth

David S. Harris, of Kimberton, was appointed a teacher in the Kenilworth school by the North Coventry township school board last night.

He succeeds George E. Bourinski as teacher of grades 3, 4 and 5. Bourinski died in the Pottstown hospital of Rocky Mountain spotted fever the past Sept. 11.

A graduate of Trinity college, Mass., Harris' last position was in the Friends' Select school, Philadelphia.

It was announced at last night's meeting that Nov. 13 would be Parents' visiting day at all Norco schools—the High school, and the grade schools in Kenilworth, South Pottstown, Cedarville and Pottstown Landing.

The celebration will be part of American Education week, Nov. 9-15. The program at the High school for next week will include short talks in the daily assembly by members of the Junior class, and the presentation of two plays at special assemblies, Nov. 13 and 14.

Mrs. Edna G. Shinehouse will be the chairman of the American Education week activities.

Routine business at last night's school board meeting included the payment of bills for October.

E. Gilbert Stauffer, school board president, took charge of the meeting.

Driver in Fatal Crash Still Reported 'Critical'

James B. Gobbins, 27, of Hilldale, injured Sunday morning in an automobile crash which took the lives of his wife and one-year-old niece, still was in "grave" condition last night in St. Joseph's hospital in Reading, but physicians said they believed he would recover.

Suffering severe injuries of the head and still occasionally lapsing into unconsciousness, Gobbins was waging his fight against death not knowing that his wife, Rose, and niece, Sandra Lee Chandler, had died instantly in the accident, hospital authorities said.

Death Toll Reaches 53 In Peru Earthquake

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 3 (P)—The number of reported deaths from Saturday's earthquake in Peru rose to 53 tonight when dispatches from San Ramon said three persons had been killed in that Andes mountain town 130 miles northeast of Lima. The dispatches said the quake knocked down 60 percent of the buildings in San Ramon, a place of about 5000 inhabitants, and the overflowing Perene river washed away the rest.

Other dispatches today said three new tremors were felt last night in San Ramon and in Pucallpa, 315 miles northeast of Lima, on the Ucayali river. These reports, from Pucallpa, made no mention of new damage or casualties.

Youth's Hand Mangled By Corn Husking Machine

Robert W. Richards, 21, of Birchrunville, was reported "resting comfortably" in West Chester Memorial hospital last night where he is recuperating from a badly mangled left hand.

Richards caught his hand in the roller of a corn husking machine on his father's farm the past Saturday morning as the machine jammed and the youth tried to remove an ear of corn caught in a roller.

He was taken to the hospital by his father, Guy Richards, with "every bone in his fingers broken," according to his grandfather, Jonathan Richards, of Kenilworth.

Elks Body Donates $200 To National Commission

Pottstown Lodge 814, BPOE, contributed $200 to the Elks National War Commission at its meeting last night in the Elks home.

B. Frank Christman, exalted ruler, who was in charge of the session, said that the donation meets the local lodge's quota of 25-cents per member to the fund used for entertainment of 125,000 hospitalized war veterans.

Christman added that Lodge 814 has subscribed $2500 of its $3500 quota for the Elks National Foundation, used to build a $3,000,000 fund, the interest of which aids victims of tuberculosis and crippling accidents and provides scholarships.

The rest of the meeting, attended by nearly 100 members, was devoted to routine business matters.

STATE ELECTIONS —

backed by organized labor Republicans have tried to use this vote to defeat Clements.

Mississippi is picking a successor to the late Senator Theodore Bilbo from among five Democrats and one Republican. Democratic governor Fielding L. Wright has only nominal Republican opposition for election to a full four-year term as governor. He is now filling out the term of the late Gov. Thomas L. Bailey.

The senatorial race will be decided by a plurality. Of the five Democratic candidates, only one — Forrest B. Jackson, 46, who was Bilbo's personal attorney — claims a majority of the following of "The Man." The made "The Man" the chief issue in his campaign. Bilbo found the Senate door barred to him the past January, after reelection in November, for allegedly intimidating Negro voters in the primary.

Other Democrats bidding for Bilbo's seat are Rep. John E. Rankin, Paul B. Johnson Jr., son of a late governor, Circuit Judge John C. Stennis, and Rep. William M. Colmer. Rankin and Johnson have conducted Bilbo-type appeals to the common man. Stennis and Colmer have aimed their campaigns largely at the vote which opposed Bilbo.

Mississippi political leaders believe 65,000 votes will be enough to name Bilbo's successor. Bilbo received 97,280 the past November.

HEALTH BOARD —

The board said that unless action to cover the stream is taken by the residents, borough council may be forced by the State Sanitary Water board—which is cracking down on polluted streams—to make an expensive survey of the run from its source to its mouth to determine who is responsible for the pollution.

Defending the board's record on Hubley's Run, Swavely said, "At no time has the board refused cooperation where complaints were made in good faith. The board will continue to render that service as long as it is a board."

WINANT DEATH —

and social council was organized in London in January, 1946. The following March President Truman announced Winant's appointment as permanent U. S. representative on UNESCO, and at the same time announced appointment of W. Averell Harriman, now secretary of commerce, to be ambassador to Great Britain, succeeding Winant.

Winant returned to the United States in May, 1946, to devote his full time to the U. N. assignment. In December, he asked to be relieved to "pick up life again as a private citizen in my own country." President Truman accepted his resignation effective the past Jan. 10.

Winant was named head of the Social Security board by the late President Roosevelt in 1935 after social legislation evoked by him as governor of New Hampshire had made him a national figure in that field.

Throughout his public life, Winant always maintained he was interested, not in political jobs, but in principles. That was his reply, too, when friends suggested he might run for the United States Senate.

Repeatedly, he battled for higher wages for workers in the textile industry.

Winant, a Republican, was quick to support Democratic President Roosevelt when the latter established the old National Recovery administration, the NRA.

This he did in the face of expressed disapproval of many rock-ribbed Republicans.

After his third term as governor of New Hampshire, he declined to be a candidate for a fourth term for the simple reason that he felt other men should be given the opportunity to try their hand at statecraft.

Auxiliary Plans To Sponsor Clinic To Detect Cancer

Mr. A. C. Seawell, Pottstown hospital administrator, spoke to the members of the Ladies auxiliary yesterday afternoon on the Cancer Detection clinic they are sponsoring.

The clinic will start sometime in November, the exact date has not been announced. All the work will be volunteered by the members.

Mrs. Harold Cadmus, president, presided over the business meeting. It was announced that a rummage sale will be held on Nov. 17 and 18. The auxiliary is also planning to have a Christmas package booth at the Navy Southern branch on Dec. 10 at the Eagles' home.

An interesting report was given by Mrs. John J. Sammons on the sewing committee. The group agreed to purchase a new sewing machine for the hospital's sewing room.

Pottstown hospital donation day will be held on Nov. 20.

Mrs. Abram Bernstein and Mrs. Harold Long were admitted as new members.

Following the meeting tea was served by hostesses, Mrs. Leroy Krause and Mrs. Walter Neiman.

On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Keen

Surprise Party Held for Couple On Eve of Golden Wedding Anniversary

Married on Nov. 4, 1897, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Keen, of Spring City RD 1, are still enjoying good health along with their married life, which today is 50 years old.

The couple were the honored guests at a surprise party last night at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weber, of 1130 Queen street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Keen were married in the parsonage of the Rev. N. F. Schmidt, Schwenkville, who was pastor of St. James Lutheran church, Limerick, and the Schwenkville Lutheran church.

They met while attending a singing class held in the Fairview school in East Coventry. Following a three year courtship, the couple was married. The bride, a dressmaker, made her own wedding dress.

Following the wedding the couple went by train on a honeymoon trip for one week in Milford and on their return went to housekeeping on a farm near Stauffer's shop, Chester county.

They remembered the cost of living as being different. The wage of a $1-a-day was considered good and eggs sold for 9 cents a dozen.

Mr. and Mrs. Keen lived on the farm 22 years and then moved to 1130 Queen street, where they resided until two years ago. They live at present with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Keeley, Ridge road, Spring City RD 1.

Before Mr. Keen's retirement two years ago, he was employed for 19 years by Jacob Trinley Sons', Linfield.

The couple are active members of Brownback's Evangelical and Reformed church and Sunday school. Mr. Keen sang in the choir for more than 50 years and Mrs. Keen was also a choir member until a few years ago. She is an active member of the Women's guild. Mr. Keen is an Elder of the church. Sunday school treasurer and has been president of Brownback's cemetery for 19 years.

They were the parents of four children: Emma, wife of Stanley Brungess, Royersford; Bertha, wife of Enos Keeley, Spring City; Myrtle, wife of Clarence Weber, 1130 Queen street, and the late Harold D, who died at the age of 10 months. There are three grandchildren, Earl, Harry and Esther Brungess.

Persons present at the party were Mr. William Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stauffer, Mrs. Dorothy Stauffer, Mrs. Bertha Fox, Mr. Warren Yost, Mrs. Emma Rinehart, Mr. Frank John, and Mr. Cyrus Keen, Mrs. Clara Swartz, Mr. Charles Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Keeley, all of Spring City.

Also Mrs. Irene Keene and Miss Mary Keene, of Parkerford; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brungess, Ralph, Harry and Esther Brungess, of Royersford.

K of C Auxiliary Hears Knight Talk; Greets New Members

Mr. Albert Berthold, activity chairman of the Knights of Columbus, addressed the ladies auxiliary last night at a meeting in the Kulp building.

Among the activities planned for the year is the children's Christmas party. No date has been set.

The three new members welcomed are Mrs. Mary Foley, Mrs. Elizabeth Foley and Mrs. Mary Ozorski. Six persons were proposed for membership.

It was announced that an executive meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the home of Mrs. W. Carroll Hadley, 536 North Charlotte street, president.

The color scheme of the booth at the Navy Mothers' bazaar was discussed.

Pigs-in-the-box were won by Mrs. Evelyn Lunderman and Miss Rita Noll. The prizes were donated by Mrs. Lena Dighe and Miss Betty Foley.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Florence Whitaker, Mrs. Catherine Konick, Mrs. Katie DiSantis, Mrs. Pauline Yonkovich and Mrs. Elizabeth Bodolus.

Jewish Women to Hear Book Review Tomorrow

Mrs. David Alexander will be in charge of the Jewish Women's league meeting tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock at the synagogue.

Mrs. Charles Gultano will review the book, "Father and The Angels," written by Mr. William Nivers. The month of November is the Jewish book month.

The business meeting will be under the direction of Mrs. Saul Weintraub, president.

PTA Council Hears District Attorney, Welfare Woman Talk

"We are erecting many prisons to take care of the children when the fault is really with the parents and adults. They are the ones that need to change their ways of conduct."

Mr. Frederick M. Smilie, Norris-town, district attorney made this statement as he addressed the members of the Pottstown City Council of Parent Teacher associations last night in the library of the Senior High school.

"Children are unprotected by law, but adults are protected. It is the action that counts, not the words. We are putting so many children away in institutions that if there is another war there will be no one to fight it," continued Mr. Smilie.

"The great mass of children sent away does not belong there. Instead of using prisons and asylums, it would be better to forgive them, train them and have patience with them."

"It is up to the women to improve conditions as they stick to their convictions. The greatest offenders are the women who have too much leisure time," said Mr. Smilie.

Mrs. James Montague, president of the Jefferson PTA, is in charge of the program.

Spokesman for the Family Welfare associations of Pottstown, Miss Martha Shoemaker, said, "The organization tries to do a constructive job on each call for help. Through the Travelers Aid Society help is given to persons traveling. All different kinds of help is given to all people."

"The Junior Service league assists in paying some of the costs and families in need pay small amounts," she said.

Mrs. Frank Witmyer, president, presided over the business meeting. The membership drive is on and to date 1953 new members have been admitted to the PTA.

The group voted to give $50 to the Community Chest drive.

Final plans were completed for the showing of the Clare Tree Major production entitled, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," to be held Nov. 25 at 3 o'clock in the Senior High school auditorium.

Miller-Leister Nuptials Performed in Zionsville

Miss Edith Lillian Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Miller, Pennsburg, and Mr. Eugene Leister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Leister, Quakertown, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at the Zionsville Lutheran church.

The Rev. David Kauffman, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white satin brocade gown featuring a square neckline trimmed in lace, long sleeves, painted at the wrists and a fitted bodice with a lace peplum and a full skirt.

Her three-quarter length net veil fell from a large crown of seed pearls and she carried a white satin muff with a large white orchid with streamers attached.

Miss Katherine Kolch, her only attendant, was gowned in a deep rose taffeta dress featuring a square neckline, short sleeves and a deep full skirt. Her short veil fell from a small sequinned cap. She carried a deep rose muff with a bronze orchid and pampous attached.

Mr. Eugene Gressman performed the duties of best man, while Messrs. James Miller and William Leister were ushers.

A black dress with gray accessories was chosen by the mother of the bride and Mrs. Leister, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue suit with fuscia accessories. Both wore corsages of purple orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for friends and relatives at Vera Cruz Mystic Charn park.

Mr. and Mrs. Leister are residing at the home of the brides' parents.

Borough Council Eyes Zoning Problems On Eve of Municipal Vote on Question

A zoning problem confronted Royersford borough council at its November meeting last night, on the eve of a municipal vote to determine the sentiment of the voters by a special ballot to be taken at the election today.

The question came up when two requests were submitted to set up trailers on properties in the borough. One request was to set up a trailer on property of the former Washington school building, Fifth avenue and Church street. The other was to set up a permanent trailer on an unspecified lot within the borough, to be connected to both the borough sewer and water lines.

Lacking necessary zoning regulations, council decided to require that in the event of a request to connect a trailer to sewer and water lines, the location must be specified, and the matter was referred to the street committee for a decision.

Following report of the alleged dangerous condition of sidewalk of the property of E. S. Brownback, South Fourth avenue, it was decided to notify the property owner to make the necessary repairs within ten days, or the work will be done by borough employees and charged to the property owner.

Adam Scheidt Brewing company, Norristown, acknowledged receipt of a notice concerning condition of sidewalk at Fourth avenue and Main street.

Paul Moyer, chairman of light committee, reported Christmas lights again will be erected at Main street.

Members Sought For Fire Association

George W. Lee, Royersford fireman and first vice-president of Montgomery County Firemen's association, was named chairman of a committee to aid in forming a new volunteer group at a monthly meeting of the county association Saturday night, at Schwenksville.

Lee spoke in favor of forming a volunteer firemen's association for Southeastern Pennsylvania, an organization independent of the State Volunteer Firemen's association, which met recently at Lancaster. According to speakers the VFA failed to take action on several important proposals.

Efforts will be made to have fire departments in the following counties join the new organization: Montgomery, Chester, Berks, Bucks, Delaware and Lancaster. Lehigh county firemen also may join.

The committee comprises Lee, chairman; Harvey Shaw, Conshohocken; E. C. Zimmerman, Jeffersonville. This committee was named by the president, William T. Muldrew, Jenkintown.

Souco School Board Hears Plans for Purchase of Bus

A new bus seating 54 passengers, will be purchased in the near future by E. S. Finkbeiner, bus contractor for the South Coventry township school. Finkbeiner told members of the school board at a meeting last night.

At present only one bus is in operation. Geo. Trythall, newly appointed "plant" officer, was requested by board members to make a survey of pupils' attendance.

Miss Dora Warner, community nurse from the Chester Valley Community Nurses organization, reported that the health of the pupils was "generally good."

Miss Warner recently completed an examination of pupils' teeth, eyes and hair, and told board members that it was not a complete examination out one of "outward appearances."

Mrs. Belta Kulo, in charge of the school's not lunches, reported that the program was financially sound, and that with the State subsidy, was paying for itself.

The board members, under the direction of Warren Rex, president, paid bills amounting to $1292 and heard Trythall, the township tax collector, declared that taxes of $785 had been collected during the past month.

Court Fines Driver $100 for Hit-Run

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Nov. 3 — A 53-year-old Wilmington, Del. furrier was fined $100 and costs by Judge William F. Dannehower today as he entered a plea of guilty to hit-run driving in Collegeville the past Aug. 16.

The defendant, Samuel Schulman, told the court that he was unable to remember any of the incidents involving two parked cars which he sideswiped as he drove West on Main street, Collegeville, the afternoon of the day of his arrest. He said that this apparently was caused by his diabetic condition.

The operators of the two damaged cars caught Schulman's car after it had turned on a dead end street. Chief George Moyer placed him under arrest.

Schulman testified he paid fines and costs to a magistrate amounting to more than $40 on charges of reckless driving and operating without a driver's permit.

The November session of criminal court opened before Judges Knight, Corson and Dannehower with approximately 35 cases listed.

Governor Sigler Alters Views on Lobbying

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—Kim Sigler, whose four-year battle against lobbyists as special prosecutor for a one-man grand jury carried him to the governor's chair, registered with the secretary of state's office today as a lobbyist.

Filing under the state's new lobby control law which he promoted, Gov. Sigler said he was a lobbyist for "all the people of Michigan." He listed the nature of his business as "trying to run an honest, efficient and sensible government."

University Building Is Destroyed by Fire

SELINGROVE, Nov. 3 (AP)—The ivy-covered red brick administration building of Susquehanna university was destroyed by fire tonight with a loss expected by college authorities to reach $200,000.

The fire broke out in the cupola atop the building — a land mark on the college campus — and spread through the three-story structure despite fire-fighting efforts of students, townspeople, and firemen from ten fire companies caused to the scene.

College authorities said the cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

OBITUARIES

EMMA S. (BENDER) REED, wife of Calvin S. Reed, of SUMNEYTOWN, died at her home at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of eight months. She celebrated her 67th birthday Oct. 27.

An attack of pneumonia followed by a stroke led to the fatal weakening of her heart.

For about 20 years she and her husband had been in charge of maintenance work in St. John's Lutheran church, Sumneytown, resigning from this work about four years ago. She continued to attend church regularly and was an active church worker.

Until the past Summer she had a large garden at her home every year.

She was born in Pennsylvania, a daughter of the late Benjamin and Lydia (Hoch) Bender, and spent most of her life in Sumneytown.

She is survived by her husband and eight children, seven of whom live in Sumneytown: Francis and William; Sallie, wife of LaVerne Godshall; Arlene, wife of Frank Frederick; Viola, wife of Willard Weldner; Anita, wife of George Walker; and Pannie, wife of Sidney Peart.

Another son, H. Calvin, lives in Red Hill.

Also surviving are two brothers, Charles Bender, Reading, and Wilson Bender, 422 Lincoln avenue, and 17 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Sumneytown, with the Rev. E. L. Angstadt, pastor, officiating.

Interment will be made in St. John's cemetery.

Funeral services for the REV. C. O. DICKINSON, 57, formerly of Chester county near Harmonyville, were held the past Friday in the Gospel Tabernacle, MYRTLE. He died on Monday, Oct. 27, at his home in Myrtle.

The Rev. Dickinson had held the pastorate at churches in Little Genesee, N. Y., and at Myrtle.

He is survived by his wife, Gertrude (Shepherdson), and four children, Faith E., Stephen, Hope, and David. Also by his step-brother, the Rev. Henry W. Dickinson, pastor of the Alliance Chapel, Pottstown, and step-sister, Mrs. W. H. Molen, Washington, D. C.

Interment was made at Hamersley Forks, Clinton county.

Funeral services for ANNIE J. (ROGAN) BROWNE, of 469 FARMINGTON AVENUE, wife of Dominick J. Browne for the past 60 years, were held yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock from a funeral home at 258 Beech street.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Aloysius Roman Catholic church at 10 a. m. by the Rev. William H. McCook, rector. Interment was made in Old Cathedral cemetery, Philadelphia.

Bearers were Paul, Charles, John and Joseph Browne.

Funeral services will be conducted in a Trappe funeral home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for JOSEPH B. MILLER, 69, of 838 BRINGHAM STREET, READING, who died in Reading Community General hospital Sunday. Interment will be made in Edgewood cemetery, Pottstown.

Surviving are a daughter, Mary E., wife of John Ash, Birdsboro; a sister, Annie Richards, Philadelphia; two grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

Funeral services for KATIE S. (SCHEFFLY) GAUMER, wife of Victor M. Gaumer, of 623 CHESTNUT STREET, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street. Officiating will be the Rev. John B. Prantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

Interment will be made in Edgewood cemetery.

MRS. MARY J. (HARTENSTINE) AUCHENBACH, 73, the wife of William Auchenbach, of HANOVER HEIGHTS, died at 8:52 o'clock last night in Memorial hospital.

She had been a patient in the hospital since Oct. 21, suffering from a heart condition.

She had been ill for the past two and one-half years, her husband said.

She spent all her life in this area, having been born in Ringing Hill, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hartenstein.

Mrs. Auchenbach was a member of Trinity Reformed church.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, C. Herbert Hartenstein, Pottstown RD 3, Earl Emery, Fifth and State streets, and Ralph Emery, address unknown; one brother Montgomery Hartenstein, of 1056 Queen street, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services have not been arranged, but interment will be in the Wyomissing Mausoleum.

Sea Scouts Hear Talk on Tire-Making

Twelve Sea Scouts meeting in the ship rooms of the S.S.S. Buccaneer last night heard a talk on tire-making by Thomas P. Storm, chairman of the ship committee.

Storm outlined the various compounds used, and the nature of the curing, vulcanization and moulding.

Skipper William Glenney announced that the boys will gather at the Firestone plant headquarters at 6:30 p. m. Friday to travel to West Chester State Teachers college to see the football game with CCNY.

Glenney added that the next meeting would be devoted to a full, formal inspection of the crew's uniforms and equipment.

Harry W. Burdian, ship committee-man, added that a few boys still do not have complete uniforms and that donations of uniforms from borough Navy veterans would be appreciated.

Lack of Pipe Delaying Borough Extensions To Water System; Supply Nearly Exhausted

Construction of extensions to the water system by the borough will be held up by lack of pipe. Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said yesterday. The borough manager explained that additional 6-inch pipe now ordered will not be delivered for four to six weeks.

Work of laying 150 feet of 6-inch main on Moser road, south from Maple street, will be started. This will exhaust the present supply of pipe, according to Sears.

Borough employees today are expected to finish the laying of a sewer line extension on Walnut street east from Glasgow street.

Operations on the sewer line on Glasgow street will then be resumed. There is about half a block to be laid between Elm and Berks streets. This will end for the present the laying of sewer mains on Glasgow street. In the future, the line will be extended about 500 feet on Glasgow street north of its intersection with Berks street. The Glasgow sewer line, to the present time, has cost about $31,000. The line from High to Berks street is approximately 4000 feet in length.

Borough workmen under the direction of Street Foreman Earl Potteiger have finished the laying of a new base course on South street between Franklin and Washington streets. Oil will be applied when weather conditions are favorable.
